

Christopher Vest, CAE, is the Director of Public Policy for the American Society of Association Executives (ASAE), a section 501(c)(6) individual membership organization representing more than 46,000 members. In this role, Vest also performs a corporate communications function for ASAE. Vest also works on a wide range of legislative and regulatory issues impacting trade and professional associations and other tax-exempt entities, and authors many of ASAE's position statements, written testimony and other communications to Congress and the Administration. Vest earned ASAE's Certified Association Executive (CAE) credential in 2013 and was honored as one of Association TRENDS' Leading Association Lobbyists in 2014. Vest graduated from Virginia Tech where he studied Communications Studies and Political Science.