

Originally from Fairfax, Virginia, Jeff Evans serves as Associate Director of Public Policy for the American Society of Association Executives (ASAE). In his role, Jeff advocates on behalf of ASAE's membership of 48,000 association professionals and industry partners on state and federal issues, including tax policy, healthcare, consumer privacy and professional credentialing, among others. Jeff began his career on Capitol Hill and has worked in the nonprofit and association communities for almost 10 years.